GREEK AND ROMAN MYTHOLOGY

MYTHS AND HYMNS
A Song Cycle Staged
by Adam Guettel

METAMORPHOSES
A full-length one-act play
based on the writings of Ovid
by Mary Zimmerman

to be performed in repertory in from October 16-24

- MYTHS AND HYMNS is a song-cycle which will be staged and performed featuring Greek myths found in an antique hymnal. It revolves around the relationship of Gods to humans, spirituality, past and present. The styles of music are musical theatre, jazz, gospel, and features individual stories and songs, as well as an ensemble.
- METAMORPHOSES is a theatrical adaptation of the epic story written by the Roman poet, Ovid. Adapted and put into theatrical text by Mary Zimmerman, it is a collection of six Roman myths with a few others sprinkled in and offers individual scene work as well as a through-line of ensemble and storytelling. The stories told are Creation, used to explain the creation of the world, King Midas, Alcyone and Ceyx, Erysichthon, Orpheus and Eurydice, Pomona and Vertumnus, Myrrha, Phaeton, Apollo, Eros and Psyche, and Baucis and Philemon. The stories are beautiful, inspiring, passionate, funny, revealing, and extremely pertinent and relevant.

WINTER PLAY

TWO FROM GALILEE

by George Herman
December 3-6, 2009

In Nazareth, Mary marries Joseph over her mother's objections and with her father's approval. Then, old testament prophecies are fulfilled— the virgin Mary conceives the child destined to be the Messiah. This immaculate conception is disbelieved by all and Mary is sent to her sister in Jerusalem who becomes convinced Mary's story is true. Meanwhile, God's messenger visits Joseph confirming Mary's story. She returns to Bethlehem where Mary and Joseph set up housekeeping. When Joseph goes to Bethlehem for the census, Mary insists going with him. There, Mary gives birth in the stable. Miraculous sights and sounds take place. And the three Magi— while presenting gifts— warn Joseph to go to Egypt until the danger is past.

A beautiful, dramatic telling of the nativity performed in the season of Advent.
